

select employees with the right business fit

Making the right hire is more than sourcing. It's about fit. Relying on resumes and interviews as a means to selection is as effective as throwing darts at balloons at the fair. Those old school assessment practices lack the reliability, consistency, and legal defensibility you need in order to find the truly best talent for your organization.

We offer in-depth assessment services to help you both determine the best hire and manage performance after their first day. We only provide legally defensible screening and assessment tools that have the predictive power of reliably identifying the best hire today leading to improved, long-term retention tomorrow. More than 25,000 satisfied clients worldwide have experienced success with our assessment services, having seen its positive impact on their organization's revenues.

Call us today to talk to one of our friendly assessment experts and discover how e-VentExe can help you find and retain top performers – discover how we can help you find people that fit.
